

I don't think anyone had issues with finding last week's solution. (or if you did, you didn't let on!) Hidden in each of the four theme entries were the four main ingredients in a MINT JULEP, which is indeed a cocktail and our meta answer. Yes, technically the cocktail normally has ice and simply syrup, but those are just other forms of water and sugar. I don't think that technicality tripped anyone up.